

BOSS Cubez
Built on Site Systems

We're solving the homeless crisis.

The conventional way to build homes for the homeless is expensive and inefficient.

BOSS Homes introduces BOSS Cubez as an accessible solution to dignified transitional housing. We blend the perks of prefabricated building with the best of on-site construction to produce quality livable homes for the homeless at high volume and low cost.

Our quality & affordability is unmatched.

With pent roof ceilings, home-grade insulation, heavy duty doors, and flush clean walls entering a BOSS Cube feels like stepping into a brighter tomorrow. What's more, we do this without compromising affordability.

"Our goal is not to just get people off the street, our goal is to give people a true home so they can rest their head and begin to enter into a stable life." Viken Ohanesian, BOSS Founder.

Who we are.

BOSS Homes is a Los Angeles based company, a member of Harwal Group. For over 20 years our team and associated companies have mastered building cabins, storage units and sheds. We've taken our learnings and are now on a mission to tackle the affordable housing crisis.

The BOSS tech.

BOSS panels come with all pieces fully fabricated into one complete panel. Durable steel, superior insulation, electric channels, and paint finishes, are all sealed together to allow anyone with DIY skills to easily build a home. The BOSS system is delivered flat-packed to be easily and quickly assembled like a Lego set.
